Fate of the Dardanelles And Balkans Believed To Be under Discussion

Informed Sources Believe Soviet Union May Emerge as Partner of Germany, Italy and Japan in Shaping a "New World Order" Conversations Are Kept Secret

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Nov. 12 (AP)—In a "strictly business" atmosphere Adolf Hitler and Soviet Premier Vyacheslav Molotoff sat down today to talks which may prove portentous for the entire world.

One of them, some informed sources believed, the Soviet Union may emerge as a partner of Germany, Italy and Japan in their shaping of a "new world order." But authorized sources made it clear that nothing official could be expected on the trend of the conversations for the time being.

The closely-connected Dienst Aus Deutschland News Service, however, offered one comment saying that while the Axis continues its war against England, "attention is being tirelessly upon rearing foundations of an inter-continental system of peace."

First Meeting
The meeting was the first between Hitler and Molotoff, neither of whom speaks the other's language. They conversed with the help of an interpreter for more than two and a half hours in the Fuehrer's imposing chancellery.

With them were German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Russian Foreign Vice-Commissioner V. G. Dekanozoff.

The sun had gone down on blacked-out Berlin before Molotoff, Joseph Stalin's closest collaborator, was escorted out of the great bronze doors of the chancellery by von Ribbentrop and driven back to the German Embassy.

Outside, the government's official guest house in the Tiergarten.

Curious crowds had stood around the big square outside as night fell, waiting to see the Fuehrer's visitor.

Thought, Germany's top men, evidently more than 100 in number, were invited to dine with the Russian premier, his entourage and the staff of Russia's Berlin embassy.

Covers were laid in a leading hotel for 200 and authorized sources said that the affair was purely a German-Russian get-together, with no foreign diplomats invited.

Leaders To See Molotoff
German leaders other than Hitler and von Ribbentrop were scheduled to meet Molotoff tomorrow.

The visit has been business-like from the moment of Molotoff's arrival at Anhalter station this morning.

The usual trappings attending state visits—banners, flags, pennants, etc.—along the line of the procession—were dispensed with. The Soviet flag was displayed at the station and places harboring Molotoff's delegation.

Greeks Believe Immediate Danger Of Big Italian Drive Is Over

Mussolini's Invaders Are Said To Have Been Driven into Albania

By The Associated Press
ATHENS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Greeks extended belief that immediate danger of a big Italian drive was over when troops reported pressing Fascist backs toward Albania, where Greek and British troops pounded invasion bases.

Except for one shallow salient in the invaders were said to have been driven into Albania on the whole Central Front. In the south the Italians made what were reported as reconnaissance raids against Greek positions around Ioannina, ten miles inside Albania. There were reported sharply on the West, they were digging in.

Germans Dump Tons of Bombs On England

Raiders Strike London District at Rate of One a Minute

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Nov. 12 (Wednesday)—Raiding planes still beat early today at London and other areas of Britain—which already has counted over 35,000 dead and wounded since the beginning of the aerial siege—but here in the metropolis the attack slackened somewhat after midnight.

The blast of a single bomb, falling in front of a row of houses, killed three and wounded eight passengers in a trolley bus.

During the evening the raiders, roaring through a high wind over the Dover Strait and the channel, had appeared to be attacking simultaneously from different points.

Despite the danger of bombs, rescue workers struggled through piles of brick, wood and tangled steel trying to save an undetermined number of shoppers trapped in a building hit by three bombs early last night. They had little hope of finding them alive.

Boy and Dog Are Reunited in N. Y.

Larry Windsor Flies from West To Get Fox Terrier Pet

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—From out of the West a great silver airplane swooped down upon La Guardia field today and there, in all the rain and fog, was enacted the age-old story of a boy and his dog.

Dimly through the murk a wait-in-gaudeance saw a small dog in a green blanket rush head-long into the arms of a small boy who had stepped from the plane. Larry Windsor and Trixie were together again.

The reunion ended a thirty-four day separation between the fourteen year old Republic, Wash., boy scout and his mottled Fox Terrier—an involuntary parting during which a great part of the nation eagerly watched its developments.

It was on Oct. 8 that Trixie chased a chipmunk into a freight car in Republic and accidentally was locked inside, not to be discovered until the car was unsealed in New York 3,000 miles and sixteen days later. Somehow or other, the Terrier had survived without food or water.

Praises Late Neville Chamberlain in Moving Address in Commons

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Nov. 12—Prime Minister Winston Churchill saluted his predecessor, the dead Neville Chamberlain, today and told the world that Britain surely would win the war despite the "long and hazardous years that are ahead."

Chamberlain himself, Churchill said in a moving address to Commons, had died Saturday, "with the comfort of knowing that his country had at last turned the corner," his one grief being "that he could not be a spectator of our victory."

The prime minister, recalling that he himself once was a critic of Chamberlain, remarked:

"The fierce and bitter controversies which hung around him in recent times were hushed by news of his illness and are silenced by his death."

"It fell to Neville Chamberlain, in one of the supreme crises of the world, to be contradicted by events, to be disappointed in his hopes, to be deceived and cheated by a wicked man."

"Whatever else history may or may not say about these tremendous, terrible years, we can be sure that Neville Chamberlain acted with perfect sincerity according to his lights. ### Republic Steel Wins Supreme Court Battle with Labor Relations Board

By WILLIAM R. SPEAR
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upset the Labor Board's policy of requiring employers to reimburse relief agencies for aid extended to employees declared to have been illegally discharged.

A 6-2 decision by Chief Justice Hughes held that the board had no right to do more than secure restitution of the employees' losses in pay—that it could not punish the employer and that it had no business "to carry out supposed policies" regarding relief and unemployment.

The case at issue grew out of the "little steel" strike of 1937. The board declared that the Republic Steel Corporation had unlawfully discharged some 5,000 employees and ordered the company to reinstate them with back pay, less the sums they had received from the WPA and other government relief agencies during their idleness.

Bodies and Wreckage Washed Ashore by Storm-Tossed Lake Michigan

LUDINGTON, Mich., Nov. 12 (AP)—Grim evidence washed ashore from wind-lashed Lake Michigan indicated tonight that the freighters William B. Davock and Anna C. Minch had foundered in Monday night's storm, with a possible toll exceeding seventy lives.

LUDINGTON, Mich., Nov. 12 (AP)—Bodies and wreckage given up by storm-tossed Lake Michigan tonight established that at least on Great Lakes freighter had foundered in last night's gale, and that another was believed to have gone down, taking a toll of life which might exceed seventy seamen.

Eight bodies washed ashore on the Ludington beach were identified as members of the crew of the 7,200-ton freighter William B. Davock, owned by the Pickands, Mather and Company of Cleveland. Wreckage bearing the name of the Anna C. Minch, a 4,200-ton grain carrier owned by the Western Navigation Company, of Ft. William, Ont., indicated that it, too, may have been lost.

The William B. Davock carried a crew of thirty-two men in addition to Master Charles W. Allen of Detroit. All of the identified dead were from that ship. They were:

Charles E. Price, first mate, Highland Park, Mich.; John Wiesen, second mate, Ashtabula, O.; Lawrence E. Bleshey, Ashtabula; James Saunders, Kenmore, N. Y.; James Bowman, Lyndhurst, O.; Andrew Stiffler, Cleveland; Walter Kiewice, McKean, Pa.; and Martin P. Chambers, Cleveland.

The Anna C. Minch carried a crew of twenty-eight or thirty men.

Two bodies later identified from personal effects were not listed in the crew of the William B. Davock. They were George Sovey, Midland, Ont., and Lawrence Thompson, address unknown.

Efforts Are Made To Speed Defense

Collaboration with Latin American Countries Is Indicated

By J. C. STARK
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—New efforts to speed-up hemisphere defense preparations in collaboration with Latin American neighbors were indicated tonight after a meeting of the secretaries of state, war and navy.

The officials—Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox—would not specify the subjects discussed at the hour-long conference. The state department said it was a periodic survey.

It was believed in well-informed quarters, however, that they reviewed the progress made in defense negotiations with the other American republics and steps needed to advance the program with all possible speed.

A sign of closer collaboration with Latin America was the announcement that Vice President Elect Henry A. Wallace would represent President Roosevelt at the inauguration of General Avila Camacho as president of Mexico on Dec. 1.

Italians Admit Warship Is Badly Damaged by RAF

Fascists Communique Says Greeks Are Repulsed in Epirus

By The Associated Press
ROME, Nov. 12—An Italian warship was severely damaged by bombs early today in the first British air raid—a raid which Fascists termed costly—on the naval base at Taranto, at the head of the Gulf of Taranto, which forms the instep to Italy's boot.

The high command, acknowledging the damage, said six of the attacking planes were shot down and three others probably hit badly enough to be forced down.

On the other hand, the communique observed, Italian submarines, operating in the middle Mediterranean, had damaged a British cruiser with two torpedo hits and sunk two steamers in a convoy.

The communique unlike yesterday's which ignored the war in Greece completely, reported "enormous losses" among Greek troops attacked from the air by Italian planes in the Macedonia and Tessaglia sectors as the Fascist land forces fought off Greek attacks on Kalabari.

Clearing weather, the communique said, permitted more than 100 planes to leave three air fields alone to drop shrapnel bombs and turn machine-gun fire on Greek columns.

The Fascist newspapers, meanwhile, indicated a demand on Turkey for a showdown would be made by Germany as a result of the Berlin visit of Russia's Premier-Foreign Commissar, Vyacheslav Molotoff.

A strong formation of Italian planes was reported to have attacked the area between Florina, Kastoria and Lake Prespa, where the Greeks were massed in large numbers.

Italian "fast columns," the communique said, had routed some British mechanized forces in the region of Alam El Hattel, southeast of the Italian base at Sidi Barrani in northwestern Egypt, while Fascist planes bombed railroad stations southwest of Alexandria, British defense works at Matruh in the western desert, and British air fields in Egypt.

GOP Solons Laud Address While Democrats Have Some Kind Words

Willkie said that the Republican party's function in the next four years was "that of a loyal opposition." He also stated his views on several issues.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), said he considered Willkie had made an "excellent" statement of the "general position" of his party. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), asserted that the speech was "in accord" with his own ideas.

United States To Recognize Camacho As Mexican Leader

Henry A. Wallace Designated To Attend Inauguration in Mexico City

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP) — The United States formerly recognized General Avila Camacho tonight as president-elect of Mexico and designated Henry A. Wallace, vice president-elect to represent this country at the inauguration in Mexico City on December 1.

The State Department's announcement that Wallace would go to the inauguration ceremonies was the first government expression on the disputed Mexican presidential election. The announcement said "the president has named Henry A. Wallace, vice president-elect, as his special representative with the rank of ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary at the ceremonies of the inauguration of General Avila Camacho as president of Mexico December 1, 1940."

The move was regarded in some quarters as an indication that Wallace might become a "traveling salesman" promoting the good neighbor policy in Latin America. He has shown special interest in the affairs of the neighboring republics and has been studying Spanish.

The United States had been expected for some time to recognize Camacho as president-elect, despite the claims of General Juan Almazan that he won the presidential election last summer. Almazan has been in this country since shortly after the election.

Wallace's forthcoming journey follows another move for closer relations with the Mexican government. President Roosevelt disclosed at his press conference last Friday that conversations had been in progress between the armed forces of the two countries on mutual defense questions.

Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, the Mexican ambassador, commented that he was "very gratified" at Wallace's appointment, adding that President Cardenas and President-Elect Avila Camacho "will appreciate this friendly gesture of President Roosevelt." He declared that Wallace "understands Latin America, and Mexico principally, very well."

A fresh snow storm whipped across upper Lake Michigan. Ferry service was suspended at the straits of Mackinac. Another storm, described by cattlemen as the worst in twenty years—raged in the big Cimarron valley in Western Colorado. More than 10,000 sheep and cattle were trapped in snow up to three feet deep.

In the wake of Monday's blizzard, some Minnesota towns were blockaded. Livestock losses were heavy. Seven downtown stores in St. Paul remained closed because of a transportation tieup. Some trains were stalled.

000 to $400,000, the company was ordered to pay to the relief agencies involved. The board has made similar orders in many other cases, looking upon the relief payments as "a sort of windfall" in the words of its counsel, from which neither the employer nor the workers should ultimately benefit.

The court found that the board took the view "that the unfair labor practices of the company (in discharging the employees) had occasioned losses to the government financing the work relief projects" and that it was up to the board to redress the injury to the public as well as to the employees.

But the decision termed this "a misconception" of the Wagner act. "The act is essentially remedial," it continued. "It does not carry a penal program declaring the described unfair labor practices to be crimes. The act does not prescribe penalties or fines in vindication of public rights or provide indemnity against community losses x x x."

Public Receives Benefits

The decision also noted "that the amounts paid by the governmental agencies were for services actually performed" and that "presumably these agencies, and through them the public, received the benefit of services reasonably worth the amounts paid." Thus, payments by an employer to the relief agency would be "in the nature of penalties" beyond the scope of the law.

Justices Black and Douglas dissented, saying that "it may well be said that the policies of the act will be effectuated by denying to an offending employer the opportunity of shifting to government relief agencies the burden of supporting his wrongfully discharged employees." Justice Roberts did not participate in the case.

The court agreed to hear a case in which the government seeks $1,053,474 triple damages from the manufacturer accused of violating the anti-trust laws. The German act permits "any person" to sue for triple damages resulting from conspiracies to restrain interstate commerce but the circuit court in New York held that the government was not a "person."

Solicitor General Biddle said the case was the first of its kind and that the question was important in connection with government purchases under the defense program.

Turkey Awaits Outcome

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov. 12. (AP) — Outwardly not excited, Turkey awaited tonight the result of the German-Russian discussions in Berlin, believing they held the key to the future of the Balkans and Near East.

Comment of the newspapers and the official wireless was restrained. The Istanbul newspaper Ikdam observed:

"Germany and Italy did not consult Russia over Rumania and Greece, but will consult Russia before violating Bulgaria or Yugoslavia in order to crush Greece. Because these two Slav states are in part under Russian influence, the Axis feel the necessity of consulting Moscow."

To Greece Molotov's (the Russian premier-foreign minister) visit is an event of extreme importance. Let's hope that the decision taken in Berlin will not launch the Balkans into war. Germany wishes to establish a European peace front including the USSR and directed against Britain and the United States."

The official Ankara radio disclosed the economic aspects of German-Soviet relations, declared that although Germany needed Russian supplies she had nothing to give in return and "Russia can obtain what she needs from the United States."

It was reported unofficially that the Turkish government was considering a bill to strictly ration the use of gasoline and possibly to prohibit operation of private automobiles.

The Baltimore and Ohio handled 52,138 cars of freight during the week ended November 9. Of this total 34,130 cars were loaded on line and 18,008 cars were received from connections. During the corresponding period of last year 55,171 cars of freight were hauled consisting of 36,320 loaded on line and 18,851 received from connections.

Liverpool an d areas in the Northwest and Southwest were under simultaneous attack. The Ministry of Home Security announced another installment in the tragic air raid figures.

It said 6,334 civilians were killed in German air raids on Britain last month and 8,695 were injured or detained in hospitals.

About three-fourths of the month's casualties were in the metropolitan area of London alone—4,600 killed and 6,723 requiring hospital treatment. That brought the total casualties officially reported thus far to 14,700 killed and 21,050 wounded.

The admiralty indicated British convoys were moving without aerial losses, despite intensified German aerial, submarine and surface raider attacks at sea.

The "silent service" tersely announced that a "substantial majority" of a convoy attacked by a raider in mid-Atlantic last week escaped, contrary to the German High command claim that the entire convoy was destroyed.

13 British Ships Lost

The Admiralty also said severe losses were inflicted on German aircraft which attacked a convoy yesterday and that, contrary to the German claim that seven merchant ships were sunk, no ships went down.

The Admiralty admitted thirteen British merchant ships totaling 65,600 tons were lost in the week ending Nov. 3-4. That total included the Empress of Russia, 42,348 tons.

Other shipping losses in that week were: four Allied ships totaling 5,403 tons and one neutral vessel of 1,583 tons.

State Motor Patrolman said there was "nothing left" to provide clues, adding that so far as he could determine there was no reason to suspect sabotage.

Four Women Killed

WOODBURGE, N. J., Nov. 12. (AP) — A mysterious, deafening blast shattered fourteen buildings in and adjoining the United Railway Signal Company plant today, killing eight persons and breaking windows seventeen miles away in Bayonne.

Five dead, four of them women employees, were carried out of the smoking ruins by rescue crews working in a steady rain.

Two other women workers died in hospitals. Then the torso of another victim, also a woman, was found late today, blown 1,000 feet from the plant.

The company had no government contracts and the possibility of sabotage was discounted by all investigators. Nevertheless, a three-day inquiry was started immediately by agents of the Department of Justice, the Middlesex county prosecutor's office and local police.

High W. Kelly, president-owner of the plant for twenty years, estimated damage at $50,000 and announced plans to rebuild soon. The company manufactures railroad signal torpedoes, flares and similar equipment.

Dynamite Explodes

NEW CASTLE, Pa. Nov. 12. (AP) — One thousand pounds of dynamite exploded today at the American Cyanamid and Chemical Corporation plant three miles from New Castle, killing three men and demolishing a small packing house in which they were wrapping the explosive.

The cause of the explosion—which jarred buildings in this Western Pennsylvania city—probably never will be determined. State Motor Patrolman Robert McCullough said he explained there was "nothing left to provide any clues."

The blast hurled bits of the building over acres of ground, shattered windows in a nearby laboratory building and endangered the crew of a plant locomotive which had unloaded the explosive at the packing house a few seconds earlier.

A gaping hole was torn in a ravine, along which the plant buildings were widely spaced to prevent extensive damage from any explosion. The three victims, among 150 employees at the plant, were Lee Waddell, 35, New Castle; Elmer Kilduff, 32, of Edinburg, three miles from the plant; and Howard Duncan, 24, New Castle.

Company spokesmen, who declined to discuss the blast, said the plant was producing dynamite for commercial use and did not hold any government defense contracts. The explosion was the second within forty-eight hours at American Cyanamid plants, the first on Sunday killing a plant superintendent and injuring three workmen at the Calco Chemical Division Works in Bound Brook, N. J.

ALLENTOWN, Pa. Nov. 12. (AP) — One small unit of the Trojan Powder Company plant near here blew up at 9 a. m. (EST) today, killing three workmen and bringing agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to the scene to determine whether there was sabotage.

The company is working on government orders totalling at least $202,150, but an executive said he agreed with Coroner Alexander M. Peters' report that the explosion was "just an unfortunate accident" and not the work of saboteurs.

"We have not the slightest reason to suspect sabotage," said John Bronstein, treasurer.

He estimated property damage at "not more than $4,000." No buildings where government defense orders are being filled, Bronstein added, is within several hundred yards of the blast area.

The explosion blew to bits a timbered sheet iron building used in the packing of percussion caps for commercial explosives and killed the occupants. Hugh Fisher, of Allentown; Fred Weller, Schererville; and William Schoenfelder, Brimleyville.

Berlin Reports Sinking of Seven British Vessels

Nazi High Command Says Bomber Squadron Successfully Attacks Convoy

BERLIN, Nov. 12. (AP) — The German high command reported today a Nazi bomber squadron had sunk seven ships totalling 44,000 tons off the coast of Norwich, England, yesterday.

Five other ships in the convoy were "severely" damaged, the high command declared, while a long-distance scouting plane sank a 2,500-ton ship in the Atlantic and other German planes "successfully" bombed two British merchantmen totalling 14,000 tons.

(The British Admiralty declared that only two ships had been damaged, none sunk, in the convoy attack.)

The German communiqué acknowledged loss of seven German and six Italian planes in Monday's attacks on England but said the British lost twenty-two planes that day, of which two were destroyed by the Italians.

(The British said yesterday they shot down thirteen Italian and thirteen German planes and lost two of their own.)

A motor works at Slough, a gas works and industrial establishments at Birmingham, armament works near Oxford and a bridge near Poolestone were bombed yesterday, the high command said, and added that fires were started in traffic establishments and an airplane factory.

Court of Appeals Hears Arguments In Cumberland Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 12. (AP) — Reopening today, the Court of Appeals heard arguments in three cases and made preparations for memorial services tomorrow.

Among the cases argued today were those of Albert A. Doub, Joseph B. Finan and McMullen Brothers vs. the State Tax Commission. They appealed an Allegany County Circuit Court decree which affirmed action of the Tax Commission in approving assessments of properties held by the appellants.

Doub, Finan and the McMullen Brothers claimed the assessments, made by the county commissioners, are "illegal, excessive, unequal and arbitrary by reason of large overvaluations of the lands and buildings and because the assessments are far in excess of the full cash value of the property."

Memorial services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow for three former members of the appellate court. They are John R. Pattison, Cambridge, former chief judge of the First Judicial Circuit; Winder Laird Henry, former chief judge of the same circuit; and William Mason Sheehan, former chief judge of the Second Judicial Circuit.

Attorney General William C. Walsh will make an address. William D. Gould, Cambridge, will speak for Judge Pattison; Thomas D. Simmons, Cambridge, for Judge Henry; and G. Elbert Marshall, Easton, for Judge Sheehan.

five miles north of Charlevoix, not far from the spot where another freighter, the Ralph K. Peterson, was grounded on Fox Island.

Two tugboats out of South Haven were given up for lost when the wreckage of one of them washed ashore. They were the Richard H. and the Indian, with eight men aboard. Wreckage of the Indian was identified on the beach tonight.

Coast guardmen here said wreckage was strewn all along the shore-line over an eight-mile stretch. A report that five additional bodies had washed up on the beach five miles North of here reached headquarters.

Another ship, the Canadian pulpwood carrier Novador, was grounded off Juniper Beach, near the spot where the Dovock foundered, and was reported breaking up. The Pentwater coast guard station said the craft had split in half and that the crew was huddled in the fore part as it lay on the rocks.

Snow and a coating of ice which formed in every spot touched by the spray from high waves made it impossible to remove the men before morning. No communication had been established from the short, and it was not known whether there were any casualties.

Waves lashed up by the wind, which reached a peak velocity of seventy-eight miles an hour in some sections, had abated somewhat tonight, but stranded vessels dotted the shores of the lake.

Hard aground just off the Ludington breakwater was the 290-foot ferry City of Flint, flagship of the Pere Marquette fleet, with four passengers and forty-three crewmen aboard. Two crewmen were taken from the stranded vessel today by means of a breeches buoy, but the others were not believed to be in danger and the wind was abating.

Aboard the City of Flint, water cookeys were opened and the all-steel vessel was allowed to settle into the sand to avoid pounding under the force of waves twenty-five and thirty feet high.

A ferry operating across the Straits of Mackinac was anchored in midstream with an undetermined number of passengers, waiting for a break in the weather.

Danish Newspaper Reports Liner Bremen Sunk

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12. (AP) — Unconfirmed private reports, one received by the Danish-Norwegian newspaper, Bilen, said today the Bremen, Germany's great merchant ship, had been sunk several weeks ago off the Danish coast.

A Danish family received a letter from relatives in Denmark saying the 49,864-ton Bremen was sunk in the Kattegat four miles north of Sjaelland, one of Denmark's larger islands on which Copenhagen is situated.

The letter said the Bremen had been lying there several weeks and that Danes along the coast thought it had been struck by a British torpedo. It added that many German troops on the ship had been drowned.

The writer said the Bremen's superstructure was above water, and that excursion trips to the ship were available for the equivalent of twenty-five cents, American money. Senders of the telegram to Bilen, and of the letter, were not identified by name.

The letter writer, an inhabitant of the Sjaelland coast, said that "hundreds of bodies" of German soldiers were being washed ashore in the area at the lower end of the Kattegat.

Greeks Believe

fighting might settle into a stalemate such as persisted last winter on the French-German front.

British and Greek forces, it is pointed out, are harassing shipping lanes into the Adriatic sea, across which Italy must move her men and supplies, and some sources assert that entry to the sea is controlled by the Allied navies.

At Durazzo, chief port of Albania, British bombs destroyed stores and set off a fire visible for 100 miles, the Greek high command reported.

Both Greek and British planes were said to have repeatedly raided Valona, Albanian port close to the Italian bases.

Widespread Italian air raids on Greek towns yesterday, in which bombs, machine-guns and hand grenades were used on civilians, were reported by the Home Security Ministry.

The high command reported that the number of Italian prisoners being taken in the Pindus mountains, where a division of Alpine troops was trapped, is increasing.

A large quantity of material, including seventy-five millimeter guns and many howitzers, also has been captured.

The fleeing Italians left at least 150 wounded men, the command added.

One full company of Albanian soldiers was said to have surrendered with its officers to the Greeks.

fatal struggle with the Germans while the other ships scattered under orders.

One officer told the Associated Press that he thought the Nazi warship was the Admiral Scheer or perhaps the Luetzow (formerly the Deutschland).

The raider was sighted at dusk, he said, and immediately opened fire. The Jervis Bay went down in the action but "she acted with courage and gallantry. Her end was in keeping with our glorious naval traditions. We owe our lives to her gallant crew."

The Admiralty was similarly congratulatory.

Crew of Ship Praised

"That nearly three-quarters of this large convoy escaped destruction at the hands of this powerful German raider was due to the high degree of efficiency shown by the captains of the merchant vessels in scattering and making use of smoke and to the very gallant action of the armed merchant Cruiser Jervis Bay, which was escorting the convoy," said the Admiralty communiqué.

"Full details of this action are not yet available but it is known that H. M. S. Jervis Bay steered for the enemy and engaged her with greatly inferior armament, thus enabling the majority in the convoy to make good their escape."

"H. M. S. Jervis Bay continued to engage the enemy after she had been severely hit and was burning furiously. Nearly two hours after the beginning of the engagement an explosion was seen to take place on board H. M. S. Jervis Bay and it is regretted that she must be considered as lost."

"It is known that sixty-five survivors of H. M. S. Jervis Bay are on board a merchant ship."

The number who died on the Jervis Bay was not given.

"The raider," said a merchant captain who returned, "had everything in her favor but the Jervis Bay sailed out to meet her while the other ships were ordered to scatter in the gathering dusk. The raider's shooting was accurate. She apparently was firing 11-inch guns and five shells in each salvo."

"Those on the Jervis Bay must have known what was coming to them, but they went on firing as long as they could. The first few shots damaged her and she soon took fire. But her guns still were going when her decks went awash. With overwhelming fire power against her, she went up in flames."

"We heard more guns firing as we hurried off to safety in the darkness and presumed that the warship was attacking other ships of the convoy."

Dies Says Sabotage Acts Are Just Beginning

ORANGE, Tex., Nov. 12. (AP) — Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) said today "the acts of sabotage the past twenty-four hours are only a beginning" and added he was dispatching investigators to "every scene of trouble."

The chairman of the House Committee Investigating Un-American Activities recalled that he had predicted "these things" and said he planned to ask congress for $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 with which to conduct a nation-wide "close-in" on all subversive elements.

British Liner Queen Elizabeth Leaves New York

Heads for Unannounced Destination and Active War Duty

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP) — The British Liner Queen Elizabeth departed her 85,000-ton bulk through thrashing, wind-swept seas off the North Atlantic coast tonight, headed for an unannounced destination and active duty in the war.

A police launch patrolled the seas as the $30,000,000 mistress of the seas left her pier, and another police boat and two coast guard vessels escorted the grey-painted vessel until she was out of sight in the rain and fog of the new bay.

Although oil and provisions had been taken aboard the liner, the definite indication she soon would leave the harbor where the coast guard left her after a secret voyage from the British Isles was when shore leave for her crew of 600 was cancelled this morning.

Her departure left the French Liner Normandie as the harbor No. 1 refugee attraction. At the time the Normandie, Elizabeth and the largest vessels in the world occupied adjoining docks; the Queen Mary left for war service last March 21.

When the Queen Elizabeth tied up here, it was thought it still-incomplete luxury liner would remain for the duration of the war. Britain's loss of some 500 ships, however, apparently made it necessary to risk her in active duty, probably as a troop transport to the Queen Mary.

British officials declined to indicate where the Elizabeth would make her first call. Some said she would go first to Halifax others said she would sail to Singapore.

his pet's safety. Larry Wong checked up and found that four trains had left his town this week, destined for two lumber camps. He wrote letters to both asking them to watch out for Trixie, offering to pay all expenses incurred in sending her home.

He also enclosed return postage on an act of thoughtfulness which the heart of A. C. Crombie, New York lumberman to whose camp the car containing Trixie was being sent, first offered to pay the fare for the dog's return but was invited Larry to come here and see the Terrier home himself. Larry jumped at the chance.

When Trixie finished licking master's face today, the boy's dog went off with Mr. and Mrs. Crombie to stay at their home a few days before returning to public.

Before they went, though, Larry vowed he'd never let Trixie out of his sight again.

Doctor Says Motherhood Is Best
For Most Women in Modern World

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Of the seven ages of woman, we come to the fifth—motherhood. Just as not all men experience every one of Shakespeare's seven ages, so not all women experience this one. In our modern world many women are inclined to make it a matter of choice—they feel a career fulfills their requirements, and a home appeals to them as an inadequate career. I am old-fashioned enough or perhaps fundamental enough to think this is a mistake. The laws of biology are not mocked. Nothing in our modern world has changed us from being mammals of a certain order, genus and species. Wifehood is the only natural career and certainly the most desirable economic career for the adult female homo sapiens.

It is the only one that completely satisfies her spiritually and mentally. I can hardly argue that from the standpoint of physical health, motherhood does not bring a larger share of hazards, but maiden ladies run some physical hazards too. There was the brilliant monograph of my old friend Charley Manson, of Wormsley, on "Obscure Nervous Lesions in the Unmarried," the very title of which suggests what I mean. But the great damage to the career woman is on the spiritual and psychological side.

The Career Woman

One thing is certain that during this age a woman will be in more need of medical advice than during any other in her lifetime. In fact, she is so surrounded with it she starts to do a good bit of doctoring herself. And I, for one, don't blame her. After fifteen or twenty years of motherhood she should know as much about the practical things of medicine as most interns, and, indeed, as many experienced practitioners. So far as the common ordinary things, such as recognizing a case of measles, I would trust her any time. And by the time she has passed her twentieth year she should have a list of remedies that can't be beat.

One Fault Mentioned

One of the faults of modern life is that there are not enough general practitioners to care for families at this time of life of which I am speaking. Every young doctor nowadays wants to be a specialist, and everybody wants to have a specialist. So a family in the great reproductive period is parcelled out

SALLY'S SALLIES

Two of the world's great questions continue to be "what shall I wear?" and "when do we eat?"

between an obstetrician, a pediatrician, a rhinologist, a radiologist and a gynecologist. It takes nine tailors to make a man, and it takes nine specialists to cure a little family nowadays. When as a matter of fact, a good general practitioner can efficiently take care of ninety-five per cent of all the illnesses such a family has.

The worst feature of modern medical organization is that the average family doesn't know where to get hold of such a man, and is afraid of the fees of the specialists. I saw a movie the other night which depicted a young distracted husband who wanted to get a good obstetrician for his wife and was repulsed in the obstetrician's office and told the fee would be two thousand dollars. I hope that is an exaggerated picture. When the medical profession loses the confidence of the young family man in modest financial circumstances, it has indeed sold its birthright.

E. S.: "Is it advisable for a person with ulcer of the stomach and colitis to take a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda three times a day?"

Answer—Yes, or even more. Bicarbonate of soda and other alkaline powders such as calcium carbonate or aluminum hydroxide neutralize the acid in the stomach which keeps the ulcer irritated.

Baltimore Taxes
To Be Increased

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12 (AP)—An increase in Baltimore city's tax rate has been forecast because of needed street improvements.

The increase, announced after Mayor Howard Jackson conferred with budget Director Herbert Fallin and chief Engineer George Cobb, was expected to be about five cents, raising the rate to $2.85.

A $5,000,000 paving loan proposal was defeated at the polls last Tuesday.

Wedding Frills Unwise if They Set Back Home

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX, Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage—Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Very often it's necessary to be firm for what we know is right, even if it does bring tears to those we love. The following letter was written by a young woman who wants to forego a large wedding so she can have a nice home with my problem? she asks. "Mother and I don't seem to agree on my wedding. I want the very simplest home wedding possible—wearing a good fall suit, with accessories to match, and inviting only my closest friends. My mother is holding out for all the frills of the day she was married. Hers and dad's wedding took

'40 Shoes Easy On Eyes; And The Feet, Too

AP Feature Service
Visiting Europeans always have said, "You Americans have the most wonderful shoes."
So perhaps it's only natural that we hear comparatively little about shoe design in all the hulla-balloo about original American fashions. We take our fine shoes for granted. This season shoemakers again prove their skill by handling leather as gracefully as dress material in shoes which flatter the foot and hurt hardly at all, if you buy the right size.

Afternoon step-in. A glove-fitting punched black suede with knotted sabot tie on high walled last.

a couple of years to pay for, afterward, I'd rather put that money into my new home, which also suits my fiancé.

Are Different Today
"In these days, young people are different. I became acquainted with my fiancé at an evening class. We had office jobs which kept us busy during the day, and we both decided that perhaps some commercial law would help us get raises. So we happened to pick the same night school. We met and, in due course, fell in love. Now we are going to be married and hope to make a go of it."

"Mother wants me to wear white with a veil and all the fixings, have a wedding breakfast, etc. She is a swell little mother, but we just don't agree on this question."

"I hate to go against her wishes, but if I have a big wedding it will mean a lot of money, and all my plans for a home will go up in smoke. We had planned so many nice little things and had our decorating plans for the room all worked out. Shall I be hardballed and not pay attention to mother's tears?"

Not Popular Now
Many young couples, starting out in these days, prefer not to have as spectacular a wedding as they used to have in days gone by. Then a girl was often given what was called a "show wedding" to illustrate the social standing and prosperity of her family.

These large weddings of pre-war and boom days often crimped a family financially long after the elaborate trousseau was worn out or old-fashioned. And, tragically enough, it sometimes represented a case of "all dressed up and no place to go."

In the rosy glow of courtship, the office promotion which seemed so certain and the salary which seemed ample somehow didn't quite perform the miracle. Yet families went on crippling themselves to give girls big and expensive weddings because they felt such investments paid in social and financial dividends.

Patience Advised
You, my dear Gretchen, are to be married; not your mother. You are wise to decide on the home instead of the white dress and veil and wedding breakfast. I doubt if you and Bob—no matter what prosperity awaits you—will ever be happier than when you are planning and decorating your new home.

Be patient and wait until mama is in a good humor, and then break the news to her that you want to remember your wedding with the same degree of happiness with which she remembers her own. Tell her that weddings these days, especially for bread-winning girls, have grown to be very simple affairs. A little nest-egg saved is better than a trousseau in the wardrobe.

Disillusioned at Sixteen
Dear Miss Fairfax:
Will you please help me find that much needed thing—happiness? I am a girl of 16, and instead of being happy and gay as girls of my age should be, I am very easily hurt and ever so sad. This strange outlook on life hasn't just come over me; I've felt the pangs since early childhood.

I'm not exactly poor, or a hard-to-look-at person. I read a lot, but when I've read a particularly fine book I start wishing for things, and am unhappy because I don't see life as precious and beautiful as the characters in the book find it. Please give me some suggestions on seeking happiness.

SEEKER AFTER HAPPINESS

If I could tell people how to be happy, my dear, the pathway to my door would be jammed.

The trouble with you, as with multitudes of young people, is that you're not yet adjusted to life. You must get over being sensitive and letting yourself become sad over nothing at all. Life is a game which must be played with good sportsmanship. The awards go to people who forge ahead with some definite ambition in view, and who do not stop to nurse the bruises they get along the way.

At sixteen, you have what a million dollars can't buy—youth and opportunity. Make the most of this God-given gift. Your life is before you, yours to plan. Try making things more pleasant for yourself. Give some poor girl an outing. Take the children of an over-worked mother to the park. Read a book to a "shut-in."

DARK ARCS DRY

If you still are tolerating perspiration under the arms, just listen to facts about hygiene in these dark arcs that any doctor can give you:

"It's uncleanly! That repellent under-arm odor signals decay! That perspiration which damages gowns is decomposed!"

Because the dark arcs are closed to purifying air and light, perspiration decays before it evaporates. Perspiration, carrying cast off body wastes, pours out on the skin, mingling with dead skin scales, and micro-organisms. Decay begins. Acids form. Fungus may grow and bacteria multiply. Rancid odors appear.

"It's shocking," say lovely women of today!

They prevent it, by using Arrid to safely check perspiration. Arrid keeps underarms dry, odorless, 1 to 3 days. No perspiration, no decay, no odor.

Arrid, which safely checks perspiration, is a pure, white, greaseless cream. Harmless to skin and fabrics. Use it any time, after shaving, as you dress... 10c, 35c, 50c—at stores which sell toilet goods.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE
THERE WAS a little spot in the pit of Kit's stomach that was heavy while she waited for Jerry to go on after his meaningful speech about taking over the program because of her. She didn't doubt it, although she protested that she had; but she did doubt his motive and for the moment she was afraid of him.

Jerry was speaking. "I did it because I wanted to plan great things for you, Kit."

She was ashamed of her doubt. She said, "Have you, Jerry? Will you tell me about them?"

"In time. Have I told you tonight that I'm crazy about you?" She said, "Please, Jerry."

"I am. I've been crazy about you ever since I saw you at the audition. I started planning things then. You needn't ever worry about my letting you down."

"I didn't," she said, her surprise genuine.

"I wouldn't let them drop your contract," he went on, speaking his thoughts aloud. "If I'm going to run that program, I'm going to do it my own way. I told them."

Kit felt weak all over. What was Jerry saying? She was afraid to know, and yet she had to.

"Jerry, please explain what you mean about 'them' wanting to drop my contract."

Jerry filled his glasses again. "Who said anything about anybody wanting to drop it? I've got the renewal in my pocket right now. Put your signature on it and that'll be that. We'll get the waiters to witness it."

Jerry flashed in his pocket for the contract, removing, first, a cigarette case, a wallet and several envelopes.

Dear Lord, please make him have it, Kit prayed silently.

Jerry had it. Kit read it hastily with hot eyes. "Are you sure it is legal to do it this way?" she asked, trailing her signature across the dotted line.

"It's legal enough now," he said, when the waiters had added their signatures.

She was safe for thirteen more weeks. She said, "How many songs do you think I can sing this season, Jerry? I was originally to do three on each program. Then I was cut to two."

Jerry looked away from her glance. "What do you care how many songs you sing as long as you're on the air?"

"But, Jerry," she said with troubled voice, "it's only a half hour show, and if we have only the orchestra and my numbers, hadn't I ought to do more to earn—"

Jerry twined her fingers in his own. "Don't you worry about that, Kitty. I'll take care of it. I'm going to remake that program. I'll fill it up with guest stars that'll make some of the other top-notch programs look like amateur night. I'll pep it up so that it will carry you. Now, let's forget about business."

Kit ignored his dismissal of the subject. She said, "Jerry, your company is paying me a great deal of money. They've spent a lot of money building me up with the public and—"

Jerry put it, "As if they didn't know! That's what I told the old man. I pointed out that you were an investment and we couldn't afford to throw it away. They saw what I meant."

A door that Kit had kept closed in her mind opened in the cold draft she felt as she read between the lines of what Jerry was saying. In a small voice she said, "How does my performance rate—I mean considering the investment?"

"With me, it's tops. How's that?"

She said, "With me, THAT'S tops."

"I guess that settles that. Now, to more important things. Our date tomorrow. You have a date with me tomorrow to go to the country and play golf."

Kit shook her head. "I don't know how, Jerry."

"I'll teach you, darling."

Kit leaned over and said solemnly, "There are things you ought to know about me, Jerry. I don't play golf or tennis. I don't know a race horse from a trotter. I've never watched a polo game or—"

Jerry touched an immaculate handkerchief to his brow. "Gosh, Kit, you had me worried for a moment."

She went on, "I'm afraid to fly. I don't like to break speed records in fast cars. I don't really like champagne. I've never been in a house where there was a butler. I don't play bridge. I've never gam-

Animals Are The Smartest People!

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
AP Feature Service Writer

Even the animals are getting smarter in this day of higher education—

Bachelor of Music

There is, for instance, Ethel, the female camel at Cheyenne Mountain Zoo in Colorado Springs.

Twenty years ago the late Spencer Penrose, Colorado gold mine owner, was attracted by the tinkle of an ancient bell attached to a camel he encountered at the foot of Khyber pass in India.

Penrose thinking of Ethel at the Colorado Springs Zoo, purchased the bell from the Indian camel driver.

It was scrooled and engraved and had the blessings of the Tibetan lamas.

Penrose fastened the bell around the slender neck of Ethel and there it remained, tinkling its lovely song to her, until just the other day.

In a fit of anger, Fritz, Ethel's mate, grabbed the bell between his teeth and shattered it.

There was no music. Ethel became despondent. She declined to eat. She snapped at Fritz and gave him the cold shoulder. She

When he slowed Old Spot, he sweetened toward a speedy female dog that had looked upon him with favor and condescended to let her accompany him. She easily could outrun coyotes and slow them down until Spot caught up and applied his scissors hold.

Seeker of Comfort

Chief, big red Chesapeake retriever, belongs to A. M. Burt of Scottsbluff, Neb. When Burt carries too long talking to friends while Chief waits for him, the dog hunts a car with comfortable-appearing upholstery. Then he stands on his rear legs, places his front paws against the door handle and pulls. The door opens and Chief crawls in for a snooze.

"I've tried to break him but so far have had little luck," says Burt to car owners who complain.

Pigs is pigs, but only the most intelligent ones have tails that curl. Students of Missouri university's college of agriculture have decided. They studied dozens of them and came to the conclusion that tails are an index to a pig's culture.

Only the prize winning ones had tails that curled. The tails of mediocre pigs were as straight as the shortest line between two points.

Independence Is Needed by Modern Girl, Writer Says

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX, Famous
Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage — Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Three or four weeks ago this column published a "Primer for Girls Entering College." The question discussed which course was better—to study hard, achieve something in the way of a career with the possibility of earning a big salary and become what the world calls a success, or just to be pretty, popular and attractive, and have plenty of dates?

The response has been very interesting. With hardly a dissenting note, parents were in favor of girls studying hard with success and a good salary as the goal. Many girls fell back on "We're only young once, why not have a good time?" The trouble with that formula is that it's blown up, and that women without educational equipment or some profession or trade are in a pretty sad way when it comes to meeting the responsibilities of life.

Most Wives Work

More than a generation ago, those magnificent old high priestesses of suffrage who worked endlessly to have women enfranchised, admitted to the professions, and to see that they worked under decent living conditions, announced that marriage no longer furnished economic security for women. Today the majority of wives have to work. There's no getting around that, even if they work at home, doing cooking, washing, ironing and a hundred other household tasks.

When the census was taken twenty years ago there was a tremendous rumpus on the part of women who worked endlessly at household drudgery because they were classed by census-takers as "having no occupation." Infuriated housewives wrote to this column, asking why they should be classed with park-bench sitters when they worked sometimes fourteen hours a day, long after the husbands, whose occupation was given, were snoring comfortably in bed? I believe the present census-takers list women who work around the house as "homemakers."

You may probably remind me that someone always has to do this kind of work. The answer is that housework grows easier for the housewife every year. Consider what housework entailed in the Colonial days when the women actually had to dip the candles, weave the cloth and linen from which the garments were made, and then sew these garments by hand. In addition to doing the washing in the old-fashioned way by hand-rubbing on the washboard, they did all the cooking and butter and cheese-making, for there were no convenient chain stores at the corner. There was no can-opener with which to get a meal in thirty minutes or less.

Burdens Are Eased

Electricity has taken the burden of housekeeping off the house-mother's shoulders. Washing, ironing, sweeping, cooking and cleaning are done by electricity. Housework will never be the drudgery it was in the past. Year by year, it grows simpler. It's only the sensible thing for every girl in every walk of life to learn something which will help her to stand on her own feet whether she marries or doesn't marry.

The most tragic letters that come to this column are from women who have never learned to do anything in the way of gainful occupation. They lose their husbands through death or desertion, and are distraught at the prospect of having to support two or three children and not knowing how to do it. Their attempts are so heartbreaking I will not attempt to enumerate them.

The thing for every girl to do is to take time by the forelock and learning something that will help her to be independent, come what may.

One Woman's Courage

Dear Miss Fairfax:
After fourteen years of apparent happiness together, my husband left home over a year ago saying he "was fed up with it all," leaving me with two fine sons now in high school. Our married life was ideal from every angle—business, social and home life. I idolized him and was as true as steel.

His two sons are disillusioned by their father's actions, and we're all broken in spirit on account of his leaving. I am going to give our sons all the real things in life which they rightfully deserve, and will be a true and loyal mother to them.

My husband, while he is apparently prospering in his profession, spending his time and money on other women (the real reason he left home), made no provisions for us at all. It seems that true and honest ideals of living are losing out to the opposite force and type of living. If he'd come back again, we'd be willing to forgive and forget. Does wrong doing ever work out?

Trying to Carry On

Your letter should hearten every wife deserted as you have been—and believe me their name is legion. When you say "I am going to give our sons all the real things in life which they rightfully deserve," your determination to carry on should encourage and help to uplift all women who take their troubles less bravely.

You tell me that in spite of leaving you and your sons unprovided for, if he'll come back you'll be willing to forgive and forget. His going was probably a case of middle-aged restlessness, from which sooner or later he is apt to recover.

Congratulations on your attitude.

Awards Are Made At P-TA Meeting

300 Attend Monthly Session of East Side Association

Three hundred parents, the largest number ever to attend a meeting of the East Side Parent-Teacher Association, were present last night at the association's monthly session.

New report cards were distributed to the parents in a body for the first time.

Cash awards were given to Miss Margaret E. Doak, 517 Memorial avenue, fifth grade teacher, and Miss Catherine Dudley, of Eckhart, second grade teacher, for their pupils having the largest number of parents present. Each was awarded $2.50 to purchase library books for the two grades' enjoyment.

Mrs. Albert L. Rogers was the principal speaker.

Mrs. Charles Frost read a report on the Parent-Teacher Congress at Frostburg, last week, and Miss Catherine Catlett delivered humorous readings. Music was furnished by Robert Street and his sister, Dorothy, a fifth grade pupil.

Francis Twigg, president of the association, presided.

Three Girls

daughter was contemplating taking the course.

Mrs. Mays said that her daughter, a student at Catherman's Business School, had been interested in flying "for a long time."

"It started in Chicago," Mrs. Mays observed. "You see she went to Hyde Park high school. That was where Amelia Earhart went to school. And that's where Virginia became interested in flying."

Inspected Airport

One day we missed her. When she came home we learned she had been out to the municipal airport. It seems she was so interested in the air port that they took her through the entire setup from top to bottom explaining everything as they went along."

Like Miss DelaGrange, Miss Mays was an inch too tall to become an air hostess.

Third girl to sign up for the course so far is Miss Jane Luman, of 224 Fayette street.

Aviation isn't Miss Luman's only interest. Patrons of Cumberland's big theater group, the Town Hall Players, will recall a pleasant evening they spent one night last April due to Miss Luman's capers in the role of Lady Bracknell in Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Miss Luman attributed her interest in aviation to the fact that a number of her friends either flew or were interested in flying. Consequently she became interested and now wants to learn the business from the ground up.

So that's the dope on three of the young people in Cumberland who are in the vanguard of what will doubtless be a growing interest during the next year or two.

Interest Tremendous

The tremendous interest in aviation in this section has been a surprise even to Mr. Smith who has always stoutly maintained that it was there if young people were only given a chance.

Dozens and dozens of people have been streaming into Mr. Smith's office the last few days to make minute inquiries regarding the air course. They include Celanese workers, professional men, people from all over the county and girls.

And it must be remembered that many of these applicants will not be the novices one might expect. Dozens of them have been reading about aviation and making models for years. They will bring an eager interest as well as a good ground-work to the school.

Youth Takes To The Air

Given the necessary impetus, it will be interesting to watch thousands of flivver-tinkering American boys take to the air with a whoop. To boys who have always regarded any gadget as something to take apart and put together again, flying will be duck soup.

Deadline on applications for the civilian school will be tomorrow noon. Not more than ninety-eight will be allowed to register for the first school. At least that many will probably enroll, the chamber secretary said.

Others who have signed up for the school as of 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon are:

Permits in Order

This vast program is being arranged "to scare Allegany to death," Miss Meister observed. While her various permits for the function seemed to be in order, she said she thought she would call on Commissioner Edgar Reynolds just to make everything stick.

"I think he would say a good word for us," she said seriously.

Police got a chuckle out of the call from the Pop Club officials, expressed the hope that the two rival outfits didn't clash on Baltimore street the night before the game.

"In that event, the game itself would probably be an anti-climax," one policeman said.

Body of Missing Boy Is Recovered

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Nov. 12. (AP)—Missing for nearly four days, two-year-old Murray Upshaw, Jr., was found dead today in the rugged mountain woodlands a mile and a half from his North Georgia home. Lying face downward under a pine tree, the sandy-haired child's body was found by one of hundreds of searchers who had combed the countryside steadily since the boy disappeared with his dog, "Nickie," last Friday at noon.

A coroner's jury late today returned a verdict that the child died "from exhaustion and exposure" and that he was "found." The jurors added they found "no evidence of foul play."

Discovery of the body followed shortly the resumption of an organized search which was suspended after the boy's pet terrier was found, dry and clean despite weekend rains. Return of the dog in such condition led Sheriff George Gaddis to believe a kidnapping may have occurred.

The boy's father, Murray Upshaw, Sr., a prosperous farmer but by no means wealthy, was upset greatly by the news. The mother, extremely nervous, said "at least I am glad to know what happened."

Slight scratches appeared on the child's arms and legs and his nose was bashed in. Searchers said the boy apparently had stumbled and fell against a nearby rock. The body was brought to a funeral home here, thirteen miles from where it was found.

Searchers said leaves and pine twigs near the body indicated the little dog had bedded down beside his master for at least a part of the time since the child disappeared.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 12. (AP)—Three men convicted of burglary and a negro sentenced for breaking and entering a Cambridge grocery store were paroled today by Governor O'Connor.

The three convicted burglars are Raymond Crumley, 18, and Robert W. Hammond, 23, both of Baltimore, and Arthur W. Alter, 20, of Hagerstown. Eddie Majors, negro, received a one-year sentence for stealing $18 of groceries from the Cambridge store. He said his family hadn't eaten for two days.

Mary Sowerby Is Guest Speaker at Salvation Army Youth Forum

The monthly dinner meeting of The Salvation Army Youth Forum was held in the Citadel on North Mechanic Street last night, with twenty-three people present.

The guest speaker was Miss Mary Sowerby, vocational guidance counselor at Allegany high school, who gave a very helpful address on vocational guidance. She urged the young people to give due consideration to their career in life, not choosing a vocation because someone else was interested along that line, but to think through for themselves, and choose the career for which they are best fitted.

She asked "Where does your work lead you to—advancement, or down a blind alley?" "Too many people follow the path of least resistance," she declared, "and therefore are not a success in life." She strongly stressed the importance of fortitude.

A round table discussion followed, after which the group went to the recreation room in the basement to play an hour or more of playing table tennis, shuffleboard and other games. Brigadier and Mrs. Phillips expressed themselves as being well pleased with the entire program.

These monthly forum meetings are for young people between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five, and any interested young people may attend, whether or not they are Salvationists.

The Spud Gets a Glorified Role

Chemists analyze soils.

Work for hand and machine.

BY SAM JACKSON
AP Feature Service Writer
STOCKTON, Calif.—The owners of a big, once-useless island have discovered that if you treat the lowly potato with kindness and dignity it will make money for you.
They have 2,000 solid acres to apud and believe it to be the biggest potato operation in the world.
They have operated without a loss throughout the years of depressed farm prices, and counting the income from their other crops—sugar beets and onions—they have cleared as much as $1,000,000 in one year.
The farm is operated by Weyl-Zuckerman & Company which also runs a big commission business. The manager is 30-year-old John Zuckerman, who studied English and business administration in college, and was thrust into his family farm enterprise by the depression.
Scientific Farming
Young Zuckerman can use that business training, however, for he must make an outlay of $750,000 in each annual planting before any returns come in.

Success of the enterprise seems to be due to intensive scientific warfare of potato diseases and to a high degree of mechanization in farm operation.
Four chemists are continually analyzing soils and studying their products. They devise special fertilizers, disinfectants, etc.
A potato must be mighty good even to qualify for planting on the Weyl-Zuckerman tract. The crop starts around Thief River Falls, Minn., where scores of contract-farmer plant experimental tracts.
Failures are rooted out, and the good potatoes are cut up—every "eye" being a seed—and planted on a more extensive scale at Klamath Falls, Ore.
Those that survive the second tryout become seed for real production purposes on the local tract.

This care enables the farm to boast a world record yield, in 1933, of 1,153 bushels an acre.
Payroll Shrinks
Mechanization in the highest degree rules on the farm.
At times 1,000 persons are on the payroll, but machinery is whittling the number down. Workers who used to cut up the seed potatoes have been superseded by a mechanical knife. There is a machine harvester, but it requires a crew following it to pick the potatoes off the ground.
Next season the digger will clean them by compressed air and sack automatically.
"I'd rather have a year-around payroll at $5 a day than tides of transient labor at $3," says Zuckerman.
Next Enemy: Ring Rot
Ever since the Spaniards found the potato under cultivation by the

Go to Timbuktu-- And War Follows You

DETROIT (AP)—Repercussions of Europe's war have been felt in the city whose very name is synonymous with isolation—Timbuktu.
So reports Dr. Horace Miner, Wayne university sociologist now studying primitive urban life in the French West African community.
Until France surrendered, Dr. Miner wrote, many natives underwent military training at the Timbuktu fort. Now there is no training, and food is scarce since Niger river boat lines halted operations because freight steamers ceased to call at the river mouth.
Dr. Miner reported that he and his wife had to resort to their supply of vitamin tablets in order to remain healthy on the available food supply.

Incas, the plant has been subject to many destructive diseases. No one knows when, or how hard, one will strike.
The bountiful harvest this fall is not undiluted good news, because it reveals there is a struggle ahead with ring rot. Experts believe the infection may be spread by the cutting knives which slice the seed potatoes—so this winter the company's inventive brains will concentrate on a remedy.

Three Hunters, Three Moose

QUESNEL, B. C. (AP)—The Caribou district game warden scratched his head in astonishment recently when three Seattle men came out of the wilds, each with a big moose.
The hunters—R. J. Hague, J. A. Hibbard and Charles H. Leber—encountered nine moose browsing on willow shoots in a muskeg swamp shortly after dawn one morning.
They bagged their moose right then and there.
Block and tackle were needed to get the moose to shore, and the hunters, three other men, and a team of horses worked three days building a road and hauling the 3,600 pounds of moose into camp. They took them to Seattle in a livestock trailer.
The warden said it was the first time he knew of that three men in one party had all bagged moose and brought them out whole.
Whale oil is used in lubricating fine mechanisms, such as watches.

Of West Virginia Jan. 13

Neely said, however, he was going ahead with plans for the presidential inauguration, and some informed persons suggested that, barring formal Senate action, he could retain the inaugural committee chairmanship even though he resigned as senator.

Neely has not announced the procedure he intends to follow in resigning from the Senate to become governor. However, it was expected that he would endeavor to take the step in such a manner as would preclude appointment of his successor by Governor Holt.

Frostburg Rotary Club Makes Plans

tification Program

FROSTBURG, Nov. 12 — Following a discussion before the Frostburg Rotary Club last evening with reference to improving the appearance of Allegany cemetery, the board of directors of the club authorized the appointment of a committee consisting of Harry G. Shupe, William J. Elvin and Rudolph Nickel to make an inspection of the cemetery and cooperate with the owners of the property in planning a beautification program.

Sub Committee Named

The Rotary committee has requested City Commissioner William Lemmert, John J. Hafer, G. Keat Hosken, Joseph Durst and J. Marshall Stewart, this city, and George Elchhorn, Lonaconing, to serve as representatives of the community-at-large and out-of-town lot owners.

A. Charles Stewart, one of the owners of the property and a member of the Rotary Club, stated that he would cooperate in every way possible to help in the proposed beautification program. Many residents of the town have expressed a desire to have the Junior Chamber of Commerce join in the campaign.

It is planned to have all lot owners visit the cemetery within the next few weeks and clean up their own lots and either burn or remove from the cemetery the refuse from their own lots, including weeds, broken glassware and crockery.

To Erect New Sign

Among the improvements proposed is the removal of all weeds, bushes and small trees from the slopes of the property, the burning or removal from roadways of all dead grass, paper and containers which have become unsightly and to improve the entrance by resurfacing the roadway as soon as possible and removing the stubble, bushes and hillside hedges which cause the forming of snow drifts and makes it almost impossible for motor cars to ascend the grade from Green street to the cemetery property in winter.

Gigantic Strides Made in Aviation Topic of Address

Air Transport Service up
63 Per Cent Compared to Last Year

In the month of August, 1940, 303,000 Americans purchased tickets on the American air lines, representing an increase of 63 per cent compared to 1939.

This was one of the highlights of a discussion on aviation by Carl Schmitt, over station WTBO last night. The program was the forty-fifth in the series sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

When the Wright brothers made their first successful flight in their first flying machine at Kitty Hawk in 1903, thirty-seven years ago, little did they realize that this event marked the beginning of an industry which is destined to have as marked an influence upon American economic life as the advent of the automobile. The speaker said in introducing his talk.

Following this first flight, developments were slow, handicapped by a lack of funds and vision. It was eight years later, on September 22, 1911, when the first bag of air mail was placed aboard a Queen monoplane on the Nassau boulevard in Long Island, N. Y. It was fifteen years later, in 1918, when the first mail route was established between Washington and New York. Two years later, transcontinental air service was established.

"The first World War gave a tremendous impetus to the progress of aviation. Now we are beginning to feel the effects of the second World War on development of air transportation."

Babson Quoted
"When this war is ended, in the opinion of Roger Babson, expressed in Boston on October 21, we may expect to see our entire economic life centered upon the development of the air as a means of transportation and as a source for chemical needs. Mr. Babson predicted that this development of the airplane would be as important in our economic future as the industrial revolution 100 years ago when steam was first applied to machinery."

"We read and perhaps appreciate that passenger traffic in the air is increasing in popularity and range. I wonder, however, if you folks realize that in the month of August, 1940, 303,000 persons bought tickets on the American air lines."

"I wonder if you realize too that this represents an increase in traffic when compared with 1939, of 63 per cent."

"A few years ago travel by air was considered hazardous; people were afraid to use the airplane as a means of transportation, yet, safety has been developed to such a point that the Equitable Life Insurance Society of the United States, and other insurance companies have removed all restrictions on air travel in the United States from the policies which they now issue."

"I wonder if we realize what this development of our baby industry has meant in the way of employment. In August, 1940, the Department of Labor reported 80,400 wage earners engaged in the aircraft industry which is equivalent to the total population of Allegheny county. It represents an increase of 66,400 compared to the 1937 average. Using 1933 and 1935 as a basis, aircraft employment in August, 1940, had increased 2,872 per cent and remember that it was only thirty-seven years ago that the Wright brothers made their flight at Kitty Hawk."

Important in Defense
"It is needless to remind you of the tremendous effect the airplane has had on the military programs of the great nations of the world. Your daily papers carry column after column describing air raids throughout Europe, bombing of cities by fleets of airplanes of 500 or more, flying 20,000 feet above the ground, carrying tons of bombs hundreds of miles before releasing them for the destruction of property and morale."

"Fortunately, in this country of ours, it has been the policy of the government to maintain and develop commercial aviation along with a military program. This attitude has developed because our army and navy appreciate that commercial aviation has now become one of the most important factors in our daily life, and as such, should not be sacrificed to a purely military objective. This development has been so rapid that the personnel, both for the manufacture of planes and maintenance of air service has been insufficient to match the demand for new construction and new air service."

To meet this need, training programs have been developed. The State of New York has established eight training centers for aircraft workers and 10,000 persons will receive preliminary training this year. The Republic Aviation Corporation is making plans for training 8,000 airplane mechanics. However, this is but a small contribution to the estimated 52,000 workers needed in the same period of time."

Courses Laid Out
Our government, seeing a need for pilots, has established under the Civil Aeronautics Board a Civilian Pilot Training Course which operates in two phases; one in connection with our colleges, and schools of higher learning, and another designed particularly for the non-college man.

Cumberland is fortunate in being tentatively selected as a base for this non-college course, and the Chamber of Commerce, acting as sponsor for this course, is now enrolling young men in this program. The number that can be enrolled is limited and there are certain qualifications which must be met. First, the applicant must have attained the 19th, but not the 26th birthday on October 1. Second, he or she must be a legal resident of the State of Maryland, and third, the applicant must pledge himself to apply for flying training in the army or navy of the United States when needed and if qualified.

"To the young men who are listening to this broadcast, if you want to become familiar with one of the branches of this fastest growing industry, call at the office of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and enroll in the Civilian Pilot Training Course."

Local Minister And Family Have Narrow Escape

The Rev. George Baughman Tells of Auto Accident and His Pet Dog

The Rev. George E. Baughman, his wife, Grace, and daughter, Gretchen, accompanied by their Spitz dog "Skippy" returned to their home here yesterday to relate a thrilling experience in an automobile mishap in which they narrowly escaped death.

The accident occurred Armistice day about 2:45 p. m. as the Baughman family, traveling from York, Pa., to Bedford on the Lincoln highway, landed in a field when their car either skidded on the slippery highway or struck some object, left the road, rolled over an embankment and turned over two or three times.

The Rev. Mr. Baughman was forced to break the windshield to extricate his wife, daughter and pet dog, and after this was done he received the surprise of his life when he found a wrecker right on the scene to take his car to a garage.

"How did you get here so quickly?" inquired the Rev. Mr. Baughman. The operator of the wrecker smiled—so did all the Baughmans. The Methodist minister immediately contacted the office of the bus company in York and requested that he and his family be picked up at the point where the accident occurred.

What, No Dogs?
He was assured this would be done but when the bus arrived the driver informed the Baughmans that they could ride but the bus would not haul the dog.

After a brief argument the Rev. Mr. Baughman told the bus driver to continue on his journey without the Baughmans because if they rode their dog would accompany them.

A new wheel was put on the damaged car and the windshield repaired in a York garage after which the Baughmans and their dog continued their journey to Cumberland.

The Rev. Mr. Baughman said it will cost about $500 to repair the car.

He admitted that it was a miracle that he and his family had emerged without the loss of a limb. Except for a few scratches none of the members of the family or the dog were seriously injured.

Pet Is Chief Concern
"And don't forget that the dog is a member of our family. He's been with us five years and we wouldn't part with him," remarked the minister. The Baughmans had visited the minister's mother who is ill in York, Pa., prior to their eventful trip homeward.

3-Year-Olds Hold Bowie Whiphand

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12—For three-year-olds and upwards, reads the conditions of the $10,000-added Bowie Handicap, which will be the feature of Pimlico's get-away card Friday. However, it might just as well be a race exclusive to second-seasoners this year, for they hold the upper hand.

Interest in the twenty-eight running of the mile-and-five-furlong battle will center in the meeting of Mioland, the leading three-year-old sold now in training, and True Call and Salamania best of the fillies of the same division.

Of course, there are a handful of older handicap runners pointing for the Bowie, such as Mrs. A. J. Abel's Honey Cloud, Mrs. Marie Evans' Shot Put and Shandon Farm's Burning Star, but they will be more or less outsiders in the betting.

Mioland undoubtedly will be the favorite. Still, the fillies are definitely capable of giving the Charles S. Howard runner plenty of opposition, especially over thirteen furlongs.

Fillies Tote Lighter Imposts
Then, too, they will be in receipt of poundage from their male opponent. While Mioland will carry 124 pounds, True Call will tote only 107 pounds and Salamania's package will be 114 pounds.

If Racing Secretary Charles J. McLennan had waited until after the running of the Grayson Stakes last Saturday to announce the weights for the Bowie, he probably would have given True Call a larger burden.

The Mrs. Dion Kerr filly turned in a splendid race. She went to the front at the start going a mile and a half, and led all the way to complete the grueling route in 2:34 3-5. She was a two lengths in front of Equitable, a stablemate of Salamania, at the finish.

Mioland's style of running differs from that of True Call. He is slow to get under way and seldom enters his best stride until the half-mile post has been reached. Before Trainer Tom Smith learned that he was best to tell Mioland's riders to remain off the early pace, the colt was rushed during the early stages and met with little success.

Salamania, which is trained by the clever young conditioner, Duval Headley, generally runs in much the same manner as True Call. It seems to be a trait with fillies that like a route to go right to the front and turn off the determined bids of the fast closers in the final drive.

Subsidization of Athletes Proposed

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 12 (AP)—An editorial in the Diamondback, University of Maryland student newspaper, advocating "subsidization of deserving athletes" got little response from college authorities today.

Commenting on the editorial, Geary Eppley, director of athletics, said it was too "general in scope" to apply directly to Maryland. "That's about ten days old," he said, "and so general in scope that I can't remember anything about which to get alarmed or make a statement."

Pointing to Maryland's record of one victory in six football games this season, the Diamondback asserted state universities "cannot afford not to have a good football team." But, it added, "we don't condone the practice of keeping athletes in school who cannot meet scholastic requirements."

"We believe that subsidization of deserving athletes is, in its place, a fine thing for any school," the editorial said. It added: "we would advocate such a move here provided the administration does not carry it over into the realm of scholarship."

Schiffler Files Expense Report

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 12 (AP)—The cost of Rep. Andrew C. Schiffler's unsuccessful campaign for reelection to congress in the First district was $2,621.25, the secretary of state was informed today. The Wheeling Republican, who was defeated by former Rep. Robert L. Ramsay, spent the money principally for advertising and traveling expenses.

He listed total contributions of $2,500, of which $1,500 had been reported previously. The additional $1,000 was a gift from the Republican Congressional Committee.

Harry O. Hiteshaw, Parkersburg Republican who lost the race for house of representatives in the Fourth district, listed expenses totaling $2,941.52, of which $2,583.79 had been reported previously.

Hiteshaw had contributions of $1,060, all of which had been set forth in his pre-election statement.

Other candidates reporting included George H. Williams of Romney, Democratic winner of the Sixteenth district State Senate seat, who listed no contributions and expenses of $163.40.

Peckinpough Is Signed To Pilot Cleveland

Given Two Years Contract; Freed Of Front Office

Club Head Says as Manager He Will Have Run of Ball Club

Points To Parting Words when Fired from Post on First Trial

By LARRY HAUCK
CLEVELAND, Nov. 12 (AP)—Flatly assured there will be "no front office interference," once-fired Roger Peckinpough today stepped back into the management of the turbulent Cleveland Indians.

President Alva Bradley emphasized his "free-hand" statement by giving Peckinpough a two-year contract, which is believed to call for $12,000 annually plus a bonus based on attendance. Oscar Vitt, based 1940 manager, was paid $13,000 and the attendance bonus under his last one-year pact and probably made at least $20,000.

"We have heard so much about the front office running the Cleveland baseball team that I want to make this clear," Bradley said. "You are on your own as far as operating the ball club. The only time the front office will step into the picture is when he needs assistance and asks for it."

Peckinpough commented: "I know I am going to have full cooperation of the club. Mr. Bradley has always been in my corner. Anything that happens on the ball field will be my fault."

Fired in 1933
It was Bradley who fired Peck in mid-1933 in favor of Walter Johnson. At that time the club president said "I still feel that you have the ability to be a successful manager, but if we don't win under you we have to try someone else. All the owners can do is appoint the manager. The public fires him."

Today Bradley, addressing Peck before a newspapermen's luncheon, declared:

"You didn't have much material then. With what you had I always felt that you did an excellent job."

In five and a half seasons as Cleveland manager, Peck's team won 416 and lost 402 and never finished above third place. Since then he managed Kansas City and New Orleans one year apiece.

Pitcher Mel Harder, one of the four present Indians who played under Peck in his first stretch, termed him "a master of psychology" and opined he wouldn't have any trouble with the Redskins. Last June half the players marched into Bradley's office and demanded that Vitt be fired.

As far as I am concerned, "Peck said" last season never happened. It's none of my business. I don't care who was involved or who, if anyone, was at fault. We'll start fresh in 1941."

U. of M. Student Paper Urges Football Subsidy

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 12 (AP)—The University of Maryland Diamondback, student newspaper, has taken a stand in support of a football subsidy, asserting that State universities "cannot afford not to have a good football team."

Commenting on the Maryland team's record of one victory in six games this season, the paper stated in an editorial that "we would advocate such a move here (subsidization of players), provided the administration does not carry it over into the realm of scholarship."

From the PRESS BOX

Polling Industry Is Agog And Here Are Reasons Why

(Released by North American Newspaper Alliance)

By JOHN LARDNER

North American Newspaper Alliance NEW YORK, Nov. 12—The poll industry, of which your correspondent is perhaps the brightest ornament (I was voted the best-dressed pollster in 1939, barely nosing out Dave Lawrence), is still agog over the matter of column-eating which came up between General Hugh Johnson and the Gallup Poll.

They tell me (I was down in Nombasa, polling a couple of Swahili, at the time) that the general offered to eat his column, fried lightly on top, with a little horseradish, if the Gallup Poll was right about the election last week.

Naturally, this caused a flurry in poll circles. Over at the Pollers' Social Club and Turverein two of the boys got into a fight about the rival merits of nose-polling and thumb-polling, while down at the Union meeting at Pollers' Hall, bets were made freely on whether the general would start eating his column from the beginning or the end.

As it turned out, the military man did not eat the document at all. He changed his mind at the last minute in favor of two loin lamb chops, which appeared farther down on the menu, and a bottle of vichy. Posterity will judge between him and his critics, if posterity has nothing better to do.

Invited to Dine
But what I am getting at now is certain agitators are urging me to eat the Lardner Poll, on the ground that our finding on the ten best football teams each week are all wrong and morally misleading.

Most of the other polls come up with Cornell as the No. 1 team. The Lardner Poll comes up with Idaho. I have noted this little discrepancy myself, and all I can say is, the other polls must be polling the wrong people.

Last year the Chicago team led the Lardner Poll week after week. They say that the Idaho team is even better this year than Chicago was last year. It must be a pip. I have not had a chance to observe Idaho personally, but if 47,822 sports editors feel that way about it, I am prepared to take their say-so.

After all, the Lardner Poll has no opinions of its own. It is simply a medium. And what a medium! I quote the enthusiastic endorsement of the late Disraeli:

"I have glanced at the Lardner Poll. It appears to be a medium of the rest of this statement was censored, but it gives you an idea of how Disraeli felt about the Lardner Poll. Let me add that the Lardner Poll felt the same way about him, with reservations.

Cause for Scornful Laughter
As for eating the Lardner Poll, I am laughing scornfully at my critics, and so is Professor Rootfiddle, my second assistant, one of the nastiest laughers you ever heard. The fact is, I have already tasted the Lardner Poll, just out of curiosity. It has body, bouquet, and a light, gamey tang, something like cinnamon or whole fat. I will cheerfully eat it at any time, on white bread or rye.

Enough of this bickering, men. Here are the ten best football teams for this week, as wrung by the Lardner Poll out of the broken bodies of 47,822 sports editors:

Idaho—9-084.
Lehigh—8-675.
Edmond Teachers—7-778.
Norwich—6-432.
C. C. N. Y.—5-616.
Tampa—4-579.
Hobart—3-234.
Bates—2-692.
Tallahassee Tech—1-112.
Carlele Indians of 1912—631.

As usual, a vote for first place counts 6 points, second place 16 points, third place 2 points, and so on.

Let me state in conclusion that the Lardner Poll has no axes to grind, but will gladly grind any axes sent in by readers, at 25 cents apiece.

Fairgo's Eddie Brennan Reared Right at Pimlico

Has Held Just about Every Job Connected with "Sport of Kings"

By WILLIAM BONIFACE (In Baltimore Evening Sun)

A house once stood at the head of the stretch at Pimlico. There is no trace of it now, but it was located about twenty feet from the outside rail near the three-sixty-sixth pole.

Master of the house was John Brennan, who for many years served as track superintendent at the Maryland Jockey Club plant.

Back in the years from 1895 to 1905, when such horses as King Pepper, Roseben and Synony were cutting capers on the Pimlico track, a dark-haired boy, who looked up and waved when jockeys, trainers and owners shouted, "hello Eddie," cut capers on the lawn of the house. He was the son of the track superintendent.

Twins Natural Step
Today, the lad whose playground was the race track, is respected as one of the nation's foremost racing secretaries. He is Edward J. Brennan.

Traveling from the yard of that Pimlico home to the racing secretary's office at many leading race tracks, Eddie—as he is still known to horsemen—has held practically every job connected with the operating of a track and the official side of the sport.

While he never owned, trained or piloted a thoroughbred, he has served as trackman, stall man, placing judge, track superintendent, clerk of scales, starter, assistant secretary, steward and track manager.

Brennan was first employed as an assistant to his father. During his school days he spent his evenings and summer vacations at Pimlico weeding the flower beds, washing windows, harrowing the track and doing other odd jobs.

Started at Cumberland
From a handy man—or rather a handy boy—Brennan graduated into the offices at the Maryland Jockey Club course and was secretary to the late William P. Riggs, general manager.

While Brennan began his career at Pimlico and now is employed there as steeplechase handicapper, he was given his first job as racing secretary at the half-mile track in Cumberland during the summer of 1925.

His work soon expanded to Maryland's four other minor ovals—Hagerstown, Bel Air, Marlboro and Timonium—and to major courses such as Suffolk Downs, Delaware Park and Rockingham, as well as Charles Town, Aquawam, Wheeling Downs and Thistle Downs.

A Hunts Official
Much of his handicapping and officiating work has been at hunts meetings throughout the Eastern States. He is considered a leading authority on in-field racing. He has been in charge of meets at the Country Club, Raceland, Rosetree, Huntington Valley, White Marsh, Deep Run, Middleburg, Elkridge, Foxcatcher, Rolling Rock, Meadowbrook and Montpelier.

Eddie claims it was at a hunts meeting that he had the biggest thrill of his career.

"In 1928 I was called upon to 'sub' for Judge Frank Bryan, secretary of the National Steeplechase and Race Association, at Brookline, Massachusetts, and for the first time I had to assign weights for a handicap," Brennan said.

"It was a $5,000 added race run over three miles and my weights came very close to bringing the contestants to equal terms. Father Tom won by a scant nose and the entire field was in a tight bunch at the wire. You can bet your boots I was plenty thrilled."

An Unthankful Job
Pleasing three groups is what makes the job of a racing secretary an unthankful one, according to Brennan.

"You must please the horsemen to keep them racing at your track, you must please the fans to keep them visiting the mutual windows and you have to please the management, for that's where the money comes from," Eddie said.

"There is a lot of difference in a racing secretary's job at the half-mile than at the major tracks. I have found that it is often difficult to fill races at the 'big apple' while at the minor tracks it is just the opposite."

"At Bel Air, Hagerstown, Cumberland, Timonium and Marlboro we always have more horses than we need."

Rates the "Greys"
Brennan claims the best steeplechase horse he ever saw when he was a "kid in rompers" at Pimlico was Thomas Hitchcock's Good and Plenty, leading money winner in the jumpers' ranks in 1904, 1905 and 1906.

"I have seen a lot of horses since the days of Good and Plenty, but none has been able to run and jump like that fellow," Brennan said. "He could fly over the turf and took the jumps in an extra big stride."

"When it comes to naming what I think is the best flat horse I will have to string along with the majority of the other turf followers and name Samuel D. Riddle's great Man O'War. He won 20 of 21 races and that record is good enough for me."

Zivic's Rival To Draw Crowd for Their Tilt Friday

Fans Turn Out in Hopes Davis Will Get Beating

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—It looks like the coffee-and-cake days are just about over for Fritz Zivic.

From here on, provided some fellow doesn't knock his ears off, the youngest of the five Zivics figures to mix a little steak and possibly a spot or two of caviar in his fistic diet, particularly in his Friday night party in Madison Square Garden with Al Davis, of Brooklyn's Brownsville section.

For ten years, Fritz has been knocking all around the fight game, even making the whistle stops, but even when he whipped gallant Henry Armstrong to take the world welterweight championship, his purse didn't do much to cure the anemia from which his bank account had been suffering.

But in his first New York showing since taking the title, Pittsburgh Fritz has rolled a seven in the matter of an opponent. Davis has been one of the strongest gate attractions in Pa. Knickerbocker's ballpark for a year now, simply because the cash customers are willing to pay—and plenty—to see "Bummy" get his block knocked off.

He is probably the most cordially disliked fellow in the break bashing business today. Win or lose, the boos he gets, if placed end to end, still would be a lot of noise.

In his last five Garden appearances, Davis has drawn a total of $195,000 in gate receipts—an average of $39,000 a fight. And right now all signs point to the probability that he'll be right up to par Friday night.

Moorefield High Trims Petersburg

Moorefield, W. Va., Nov. 12—Coach "Tack" Clark's Moorefield High gridder celebrated Armistice Day in rousing fashion here yesterday by walloping the Petersburg High Viking eleven 40-0 in the annual battle between the South Branch Valley-Potomac Valley Conference rivals.

The Yellow Jackets bagged touchdowns in each period to embellish their already fine record for the season. Moorefield rushed the ball 326 yards to 44 for Petersburg and completed four of six passes for 92 yards. Petersburg connected on seven of 19 passes, but the tresses gained only 22 yards and six were intercepted.

Moorefield also held a big advantage in punting by averaging close to 40 yards on its three kicks. Three blocked punts reduced the Petersburg average to 12 yards.

A blocked kick by Poling resulted in Moorefield's first touchdown. Burch falling on the loose ball in the end zone. Hot plunged the extra point. Later in the first quarter, Charles Bean traveled 18 yards on an end-around play for Moorefield's second touchdown.

Hott hammered center for six yards and a touchdown in the second period, and converted with a plunge, while the Jackets' got their third period score on a 26-yard gallop by Charlton on a reverse. Hott again plunged the extra point yardage.

In the closing period, Compton passed to C. Bean for the first score and Hott rammed tackle for the second—both plays being for about 12 yards and Compton getting the extra point following the first on a buck.

Moorefield closes its season by meeting Keyser High here Friday afternoon. Yesterday's lineups:

It looks like a very bad spill in this steeplechase at Baltimore, Md., but it wasn't, for Jockey C. Brooks quickly remounted and came in to finish second to the horse passing here.

Four Teams Top AP Poll for No. 1 Eleven

Minnesota Ousts Cornell for Lead; Texas A & M Third

Aggies and Stanford only Teams Left in Race as It Shapes Up

Notre Dame, Unknown Quantity Until It Plays Out Schedule

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—The annual battle for the honor of being named No. 1 team of the year in the Associated Press football ranking poll apparently has settled down to four teams, with Minnesota's Golden Gophers finally wrestling first place away from Cornell.

The Gophers, after closing in on the front-running titans for four weeks, displaced them in the season's fifth poll today, getting 55 first-place votes to Cornell's 45 while one other ballot divided the top spot among these two and a third-place Texas A and M.

The Aggies, named first by 31 of the 148 voting experts, and Stanford, placed on the top by 12, are the only teams left in the race as it now shapes up. Minnesota, which has won its four biggest games by a total margin of only 14 points, is in front in the poll with 1,314, followed by Cornell's 1,260, the Aggies 1,202 and Stanford's 1,066.

Second Division

From these four all-conquering outfits, each well on the way to history in its sectional race, there is a considerable drop to what, of the point standing, could be called the "second division."

Heading this fourth-team group is Tennessee, the south's only unbeaten-survivor, 698 1/2 points, followed by Michigan, beaten one point by Minnesota last Saturday 545; Notre Dame, still somewhat a question mark and likely to remain so until it meets Northwestern November 23, 541; and Boston College, which is to the east's so-called "Polish Ivy" league what Cornell is to the Ivy 548 1/2.

Completing the first ten are Georgetown which meets B. C. this weekend in what shapes up as the most bruising game of the week, 332 1/2, and Northwestern 276.

In the second ten are Nebraska 193 1/2 points; Duke with two first-place votes, 59; Fordham 36; Alabama 26; Mississippi State 24; Santa Clara 19; Mississippi and Washington 15 each; Oregon State 11 and Penn State and Southern Methodist 4 each.

Nemorol League

The Yankees cleaned up on the Indians, while the Reds took a pair from the Tigers and the Dodgers handed the Giants the same dose in Nemorol League matches on the Savoy Alley.

Alice Marble To Get $25,000 for Pro Tennis Tour

Woman Champ Quits Ranks of Amateurs with No Regrets

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—The women's national tennis sky missed its brightest star tonight, but a new light of hope shone in the eyes of tournament entrants who for years have found their paths to the championship blocked by the tall, boyish figure of Alice Marble.

The blonde Californian, 27 years old, announced today that she had turned professional, that she would play her first match in Madison Square Garden Jan. 6, and that she would receive a minimum guarantee of $25,000 plus a percentage of the receipts for a four and one-half month tour under the direction of Jack Harris of Chicago.

Miss Marble's partners on the tour will be Don Budge, Bill Tilden and a still unnamed woman player. Harris said he is negotiating with a well-known amateur player who is awaiting permission of her parents before accepting his offer. It was reported the player in question is Ruth Mary Hardwick, English Wightman cup star.

Winner of 23 national championships here and abroad, undefeated since meeting Helen Jacobs at Wimbledon in 1938, Miss Marble leaves the amateur field with no regrets.

"My heart was set on being a tennis champion," she said. "Amateur tennis has given me all it can, and I wouldn't play another season. I am really thrilled, as for the first time in my life I will have the time and the money to do the things I've always wanted to do."

The "things" include continuing her musical education and doing something in radio. She already includes dress designing and lecture work among her many avocations.

Harry Bobo Loses To Boston Ringman

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—After seven slow rounds Tony Shucco of Boston and Harry Bobo, local negro boxer, suddenly tossed caution aside and put on one of the wildest finishes in recent years in their ten round main bout in the Southside Market House last night with the boxer from Beantown copping the unanimous decision. Shucco, a boxer, and Bobo, primarily a slugger, couldn't please the customers in the early stanzas but the sensational finish made amends for earlier lapses.

In the eighth round the rivals pushed and shoved each other around in an exciting mixup. Twice Shucco slipped to the canvas for no count but hopped up instantly and romped to the verdict. Tony weighed 181 to 210 for his victim. The show grossed only $1280.

In the semi-final, scheduled for six rounds, Freddie Lenn, the Southside Marine, scored a technical kayo over Jack Haley, of Charleroi, after 2 1/2 of the fourth round. Referee Freddie Mastrean stopped the bout when Haley suffered a bad gash under his right eye. Lenn scaled 160 while Haley tipped the beam at 164.

Red Cregan, 146, of East Liberty, and the latest of Johnny Ray's proteges, gained a three-way decision over Ernie Palasia, 150, of Monaca, in a six-rounder. Ira Johnson, 160, McKeesport, scored a technical knockout over The Tampa Kid, 157, Pittsburgh, in the third round of another scheduled six.

Vic Hutton, 170, of Conneaut Lake, outpointed Frankie Marr, 168, of Aliquippa, in the opening four rounds.

Savoy Ladies League

BLEACHER COLLAPSE INJURES 28 FOOTBALL FANS

At least 28 people were injured—some seriously—when a temporary bleacher tumbled 1,200 football fans into a heap during the Texas A. & M.-Southern Methodist game in Dallas, Tex. Some of the people are shown being pulled from the timbers. Some of the victims suffered back injuries, others broken legs. Many were bruised. The stand folded in the center and gradually settled. Some of the spectators were trapped when their legs were caught beneath the crumbling seats.

ONLY THE BRAVE AGAIN Who are the brave I've asked this, deep in doubt. The ones who laugh at death, and take their chance? Or those who know what life is, those in rout. Lost to all dreams of glory and romance.

Who take the bitter road that leads nowhere. Through fogs and mists, through suffering and pain. To slog along, to challenge, and to dare.

Pete's killing dagger, and its crimson stain. Only the brave know what the broken are—The battered—and the beaten—and the lost—Who know the meaning of each deep, red scar.

For which they paid the heart-aches—and the cost. Who've left the depths against unmeasured odds, To carry on the burden of their load.

Who've asked no quarter from the ruling gods. To find the light along a starless road.

AN UNBALANCED GAME It must be remembered, in your remaining prognostications, and your selections that while American football is the greatest game ever invented when it comes to a mixture of spirits and skill, to condition, to player interest and to crowd excitement, it is still an unbalanced game in the way of just rewards.

The better team doesn't always win—not by fifty kilometers. I have talked this season with a dozen leading coaches about this phase of football, and they all agree. They admit that you can outplay another team badly—along the ground and through the air—and still lose the ball game.

I've located over forty teams this season who have made more yards along the ground and through the air and have had the better kicking, and still have lost. When two good teams meet, the breaks almost always carry the winning story. Which means the flip of a coin.

This is no indictment of football, as a game. It is the turn that gives the underdog his chance against better football people. It is the factor that gives its thrills to big crowds, which have realized there are few setups.

First downs have become minor factors. Last Saturday 17 teams made more first downs and greater yardage—in many cases by decisive margins—and yet lost. It is something like an open golf championship with a vast roulette wheel spinning the answer. But it is stupid to say always that "the better team won." It is often truer to say, "The lucky team won." And most coaches know this.

CALLING THE TURN The forward pass came along in 1906. That was 34 years ago. Four years later, some thirty years ago, I happened to be with Hurry-up Yost of Michigan and Bill Hanna, one of the star football writers who was a freshman at Yale.

"This is a new game," Yost told us. "I've found at Michigan we can beat the second team by seven touchdowns on Tuesday, and fail to score on Wednesday. Passes and plays click one day. They don't the next. It's all different."

That was thirty years ago. But Yost saw what was coming—a better game for the player, a far better game for the crowd, but no longer a game for past performance nor for accepted form. Yost at that time saw ahead how many better football teams were going to be beaten by underdogs, by minor teams.

"It will be terrific," he said. "I only hope the writers and the crowds will understand what is going to take place. It will be a better sporting contest for everybody—except for the better team."

Again, that was thirty years ago. It was even truer last Saturday than it was thirty years ago. Breaks—breaks—breaks. They'll tell you the winners make the breaks. You can, ordinarily, chuck that one out the window. It doesn't even rhyme. But it has a pleasing sound.

FOR EXAMPLE, MINNESOTA This season Minnesota stepped into one of the toughest schedules of the year. I'd say the toughest. The Gophers barely scrambled by Washington, and I happen to know that both Jimmy Phelan and Washington thought they should have won—with 30 per cent of the breaks.

Ohio State had two easy chances to beat Minnesota and blew both, which is nothing to Buckeye credit. An intricate play called in the rain for a one-lard touchdown wasted one of them.

One point after touchdown for Northwestern would have tied Minnesota. Two points after touchdown would have won. The point after touchdown is the cheap concession from the rules committee to the crowd—not to the good of football.

In the Michigan game the Wolverines were all over the Gophers—something like 15 first down to five.

Cuff Suffers Spinal Concussion on Grid

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Ward Cuff, veteran New York Giants place-kicking specialist, probably will be out of competition the remainder of the season, Coach Steve Owen said today.

Cuff suffered a spinal concussion in the first period of Sunday's game with the Cleveland Rams.

ble—a gamble that even Minnesota might easily have lost three ways. But it has still been the big job of 1940."

FOR ONE GAME "The main angle in football," Elmer Layden of Notre Dame said, "is the mental attitude for one game. I know how Army and Navy shoot for us. I told you that you could throw out all other games. When you get set to win one game, no one can say what will happen. For example, blocking and tackling are about 80 per cent spirit for that one day."

"Don't figure any of these unbeaten teams are riding safely. They are not. They are the ones that usually get jittery. The others can shoot the works. I can tell you right now that Notre Dame, Minnesota, Stanford, Texas A. and M. and any of these teams playing hard schedules can stumble in a hurry. And that brings us back again to mental attitude, which is a big part of football. I only wish everyone knew how big a part it is."

Thomas scored twice for the Reds, with Early and McLean each contributing one apiece. Wheeling's score came in the last period after a 40-yard pass, with L. Richards going over.

Montgomery Signed To Oppose Angott PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, promising young Philadelphia negro, will tackle his second lightweight champion, Sammy Angott, here on Nov. 25.

Montgomery gave Lew Jenkins of Texas a close battle here on Sept. 16. Jenkins is recognized as light-weight king by New York and affiliated states. Angott of Louisville, Ky., recognized as 135-pound champion by the National Boxing Association.

The Angott bout will be a title 10-rounder.

Parkersburg Keeps Its Record Clean

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Led by Fred Early 15-year-old sophomore, Parkersburg High's Big Red proved too much for Wheeling High here yesterday on a rain-soaked field. The score was 27 to 7. The game was Parkersburg's from the first, although they were held scoreless during the first period. Speedy running plays coupled with a shifty aerial attack were used by the Reds, who are undefeated this season. They have already downed Huntington and Charleston.

Football Is Big Business and East Must Realize It

Chick Meehan Says Gridiron Gate Receipts Make Colleges Go

By BILL BONI
NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Two diametrically-opposed views on the future of college football were presented at yesterday's luncheon of the New York Football Writers Association.

Chick Meehan, introduced as a "coach emeritus" and speaking frankly on his own, insisted it was the time eastern colleges realized football was big business and accepted it as such.

Ken Fairman, graduate manager of athletics at Princeton, predicted the probable curtailment of intercollegiate competition but with athletics surviving on a "sports for all" or largely intramural basis.

Meehan, who raised New York University to the status of a major gridiron power and started Manhattan on the way up, pointed to the rise in importance of many southwestern and southern colleges, and attributed it largely to the wide notice their football teams received.

Everyone benefits— "Football's a big business from which everyone benefits," he declared. "It always has been a business, something you're doing to help build up an institution."

Then Meehan switched, without any direct reference, to the recent statement by Ogden Miller, chair of Yale's Athletic Council, that Yale would not go out of its way to seek football material.

A few more years of empty fields running up to New Haven," said Chick, "and the directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad will see to it that that situation is changed."

Fairman described college athletic development from the first stage of undergraduate sports clubs to the acceptance, within the last 10 to 15 years, of sports as part of the college curriculum.

Privately-endowed colleges particularly, he then declared, may be forced to reduce their programs because of declining endowments and a decrease in the football receipts which have made it possible for them to enlarge their intramural programs.

"But athletics will be continued in any event," said Fairman, "and we at Princeton believe we are on the right track in providing some sort of competition for every undergraduate who is not physically incapacitated."

Three Girls Head List Of Air School Applicants

Interest Keen in Chamber Sponsored Program; 52 Sign Up

Many of them aren't talking about it above a whisper but a lot of red-blooded Cumberland area boys and girls have every intention of sprouting wings in the next few months.

Arriving at this conclusion is just a matter of putting two and two together. Aviation is the new ripple in the stream as far as these young folks are concerned. When they get together they talk about flying, not as some romantic subject out of a pulp magazine, but in concrete, practical terms.

First, the Chamber of Commerce announced that it would sponsor a civilian flying training school. Next, the sale of aeronautical magazines took a jump. Then the applications started to pour in on H. W. Smith, chamber secretary, who is a flying enthusiast himself.

Parents Very Sporting

Fathers and mothers, many of whom have not been fully advised regarding the flying ambitions of their offspring as yet, are a trifle dubious but in the main are being very sporting about the thing.

The comment made by one mother on the subject was a gem. Said she: "Well, I can remember when the only thing anybody drove was a horse and buggy. Then we all learned to drive automobiles. Now our children want to learn to drive airplanes and it wouldn't surprise me if we lived to see the day when flying planes is as common as driving automobiles."

A reporter who dropped in at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday found Secretary Smith surrounded by stacks of application blanks and looking very pleased about the whole thing. Mr. Smith is one man who is utterly sold on aviation and its future. When Mr. Smith goes to Boston these days he takes the sky route.

52 Signed Up

To date, fifty-two young people have signed up for the training school.

"Three of these applicants are young ladies," observed Mr. Smith who seemed to think this just about made things perfect. No, he didn't know if the girls were planning to fly bombers in case of war or not but it was a cinch they were interested in flying for there were their names on application blanks.

Curious, the reporter hopped into a cab and started out to find out why the three female applicants had signed up for the course.

First one contacted was Miss Bernice DeLaGrange, of 701 Bedford street. A person doesn't have to go very far to discover why Miss DeLaGrange is interested in flying. Her brother, Jack, is one of Cumberland's best pilots. And while she has never flown a plane, Miss DeLaGrange has been up with her brother many times.

Star at Basketball

Miss DeLaGrange will probably make a good pilot. She was a crack basketball player at Allegany high school. She wanted to be an air hostess but was one inch too tall to meet the requirements.

Asked why she was taking the course, Miss DeLaGrange declared, "Well, I want to learn to fly" with finality and decision. Her brother nodded his approval. Mrs. DeLaGrange said she guessed it would be all right.

Next step was the home of Miss Virginia Lee Mays of 229 Bedford street. Miss Mays was out but her mother was home and tremendously interested in the fact that her

392 Enroll for Evening School In This County

22 Subjects Being Taught at Ten Centers, Lonnholm Announces

Three hundred and ninety-two persons have enrolled for evening school classes now being conducted in five Allegany county high schools and other centers in Cumberland.

Julius D. Lonnholm, director, announced.

Twenty-two subjects are being taught. Lonnholm said that any class with an enrollment under twenty students is still open to the public. Anyone who wishes to enter one of the various classes should do so immediately before the classes are closed.

A class in blueprint reading and shop sketching is being formed. It will be taught on Saturday mornings from 9 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon at Fort Hill high school. Information offered in the course will be of great value to any man who desires to advance himself in industry, or prepare himself for industrial participation in the national defense program.

Any person who desires information about evening school can obtain it by calling 18413.

The places where classes are being conducted, the subject, teacher and present enrollment figures have been announced by Lonnholm, as follows:

Koon, member of the Maryland State Tax Commission and for many years mayor of Cumberland, was host last evening at his home at 221 Baltimore avenue at another in the series of annual birthday dinners he has given a group of friends.

The event also marked the tenth wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Koon.

A mammoth turkey was served the diners along with many other good things in several courses after Dr. Koon blew out the collection of tiny candles that surmounted a huge, artistically decorated birthday cake.

Favors of various kinds were at each cover, some of them being of the surprise explosive type and others of an amusing but distinctive nature. Boutonnieres and ash tray gifts were included.

Dr. Koon was assisted in entertaining the guests by Mrs. Koon and their niece, Miss Jane Hutson. The guests included Philip J. Arendes, Col. W. H. Robertson, William L. Geppert, George G. ## "Facing the Fifties" Is Subject Of a Talk by James E. Spitznas

Local Educator Is Speaker at Meeting of the Rotary Club

Those who face the fifties, have worked hard for fifty years—more or less—to make good workmen of themselves, and they must now give a little time to make men of themselves.

So declared James E. Spitznas, educator, in an address on "Facing the Fifties" before the local Rotary club yesterday at the Port Cumberland hotel.

In the process of growing older, Spitznas said, there is a changed mind with a changing body, which must be accepted, and it is necessary to take one's bearings to determine where we are and in what direction we are going. The nation took its bearings recently, and recently the young men of the nation had their bearings taken for them, the speaker said. These are things to give us pause.

The untimely end of other men's lives also gives us pause, Spitznas said. Life may make automatons and adrenals out of us. So, we must learn along the way not to respond to the challenges of life in the old animalistic way, with nerve and muscle. As we get older, the realm of physical activity must get narrower, but we can still engage in muscle thinking—still lie in bed and play ball and relearn tolerance of boys and men.

As Emerson said, there is only

Man Gets the Air when He Asks for Jail Term; 'Greatly Disappointed'

Here's another one for the books.

A man nonchalantly walked into trial magistrate court yesterday afternoon and asked Magistrate Frank A. Perdew to send him to the Maryland House of Correction or "away" for six months.

He seemed greatly disappointed when Magistrate Perdew informed him that he did not have the authority to send anyone away unless they ran afoul of the law or someone would prefer a charge, such as vagrancy.

The man then asked if he would be arrested if he threw a brick through a window. Magistrate Perdew answered he might.

Exit—the man.

Husband Charges Wife Raided His Bank Account

Asks That Court Restrain Her Citing Shrunk Savings

A husband fearful of being stripped of his wealth today had applied for and been awarded a temporary restraining order against his wife. The temporary restrainer was awarded by Associate Judge William A. Huster after Attorney's Paul M. Fletcher and William H. Geppert had explained the case of Herbert Gaither to the court.

According to the petition docketed by Gaither, he and his wife have been living apart since May, 1940. For a great number of years, they maintained a joint checking account in the First National Bank, he said.

Gaither said he also had a savings account in his own name that amounted to $2,500 as of the first of October. Now it only amounts to $61.39, he said.

Unknown to him, his wife had his savings account transferred to the joint account, Gaither said. She did this by obtaining his signature to a paper, the contents of which were not known to him, Gaither alleged.

Having made the switch, his wife withdrew all his money with the exception of the $61.39, Gaither declared. Moreover, he had a safety deposit box at the bank containing a number of bonds and securities, the complainant charges. This box was also changed and taken over by his wife, he declared.

Contents of the box, according to the petition, included thirty shares of Irving Trust Company capital stock with a par value at ten dollars a share; a Consolidated Cities

Examiner Finds Death of Thomas Is 'Accidental'

Stair Is Exonerated after Investigation into Highway Fatality

Dr. Linne H. Corson, deputy medical examiner, last night issued a certificate of "accidental death" in connection with David Thomas, 16, of Eckhart, who was fatally injured when struck by an automobile while walking along the National highway, ten miles west of Cumberland, Monday night.

Young Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas, was struck by the car driven by William Dufty Stair, 22, of Beall's Lane, Frostburg. Stair was driving toward Frostburg and the youth was walking in the same direction, on the right side of the highway, when the accident occurred shortly after 9:30 o'clock at the east end of Eckhart Flat.

Stair was exonerated yesterday morning after being questioned by State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris, County Investigator Terrence J. Boyle and State Trooper Carl G. Storm. Three boys who were walking with the Thomas youth were also questioned.

The youth's death marked the second fatal traffic accident on Armistice Day in the Frostburg section.

A. D. K. Presents "The Jade God" Tonight at 8:15

Predict Thriller Will Surpass "The Skull" in Hair-Raising Horror

Members of A.D.K. said yesterday that in their judgment tonight's play, "The Jade God," will surpass even "The Skull" in hair-raising horror.

"The Skull," it was explained, is a former Allegany high school vehicle which won considerable acclaim in scholastic circles as a hair-raiser.

According to advance publicity, "The Jade God," which goes on tonight at 8:15 o'clock, is "guaranteed to thrill, chill and entertain you. A hair-raising, blood-curdling drama in all respects. 'The Jade God' is the perfect murder-mystery show."

Depict Hindu Fakir. Having dusted off these adjectives, the advance blurb writer states that "a very difficult role is that of a Hindu fakir known as Blunt, taken by William Green."

A number of strange people are encountered. "Among these queer people," the writer states, "is Perkins, the housekeeper, a horrible-looking woman and very mysterious enacted by Elizabeth Law. Another servant is the gardener, a suspicious personage enacted by Homer Brill. Mrs. Thurbury, a very flighty woman, is portrayed by Dixie Rafters."

In Center of Baffler. "Ted Ferrato as Jack Derrick and Dorothy Jane Twigg, as his sister Edith, are in the center of this, a most baffling murder case."

Leading role in the show is taken by Evelyn Williams as Jean Millicent. Miss Millicent's father is murdered. The mystery will be repeated at the high school auditorium Friday night, Nov. 15.

Students Plan Big Bonfire, Parade on Eve of All-gany Game

If preparations mean anything, the Fort Hill-Allegany high school football classic on Thanksgiving Day ought to be a honey.

As far as could be determined Fort Hill high school seemed to have gotten the jump on their bitter rivals yesterday with representatives of their Pep Club canvassing city officials for necessary support.

Two girls, both already practically breathless over the impending clash, appeared at police headquarters last night to set up the machinery for what they predict will be the "greatest pep rally and bonfire in the history of Cumberland," this event is to be staged on the eve of the game.

Pep Club on the Job. The two girls were Miss Sue Meister and Miss Eileen Martin, president and treasurer of the Fort Hill Pep Club, respectively.

While some of the school officials had apparently indicated that the club wouldn't be allowed to swing their proposed program, the two girls both confidently declared that they knew "the right people" and went forward on that assumption.

And apparently they did. Miss Meister, a daughter of Officer Lawrence E. Meister, proceeded to consult with Assistant Chief John J. Triebner and Desk Sgt. Wellington Lovenslein.

She was awarded a permit to hold a parade all over downtown Cumberland on the eve of the Turkey Day clash without any ado. Moreover, she was promised the two most handsome motorcycle cops on the force to lead the line of march, and shoo Allegany high school people out of the way if necessary.

When the two girls broached the matter of a bonfire permit, they were directed to Fire Chief Reg. C. Hoenicka who the officers said was in charge of the bonfire department. Chief Hoenicka gave the girls a permit to burn a bonfire forthwith and promised to have a fireman present to watch it.

Miss Meister observed that the school was planning to raid the Super Market for boxes to create a pyramid back of the school, near Kent and Greenway. However, there is some doubt as to whether police will furnish a cordon of officers to protect the pyramid from Allegany high school students and the Fort Hill bunch is ready to touch it off.

Band To Lead Van. The Fort Hill band, replete in uniform and with drum majors and drum majorettes, will lead the parade that will follow the stake dance around the burning bonfire.

As specified by Miss Meister and Miss Martin, the parade will march from Laing and Virginia avenues to Oldtown road, to Louisiana avenue to Kent and Greenway where the bonfire will be burned.

From there the horde will proceed to Williams street, to Park street, on to Baltimore street, to North Centre street, to Market, North Main, to Baltimore again, then to South George, and then to Sales street, by the State Armory.

"We will disband on Salem street"
